ART ROCKS!

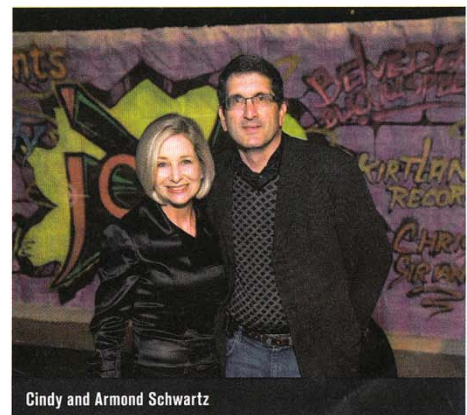

It was a night of art colliding with fashion and music, when Jenny and John Kirtland and Lucy and Steve Wrubel co-chaired "First Look" for Two by Two for AIDS and Art, held annually at the Rachofsky House. The Kirtlands (John is the man behind music label Kirtland Records) brought in raspy-voiced heartthrob Gavin Rossdale to perform an acoustic set. Forty Five Ten supplied the visual stimulation, as Project Runway winner Christian Siriano draped models in his sexy frocks. Warren Soner added a live graffiti art installation, and The Joule's Charlie Palmer restaurant provided global flavor. —Janie Donosky Condon
